Call to Greatness

"Early on the first day of the week, while it was still dark, Mary Magdalene went to the tomb and saw that the stone had been removed from the entrance. So she came running to Simon Peter and the other disciple, the one Jesus loved, and said, 'They have taken the Lord out of the tomb, and we don't know where they have put him!'" [John 20:1-2]

Have you ever noticed how much running there is in the Easter gospel?

- "So she came running to Simon Peter ..." (v.2)
- "So Peter and the other disciple started for the tomb. Both were running, but the other disciple outran Peter and reached the tomb first." (v. 3-4)

This is a breathless reading. It's got sweat all over it. Everybody is running. You have to use fast-shutter film to catch them. You don't have much running in the Bible, not much running in the Gospels. But in this paragraph everyone seems to be out at a mile sprint.

Why all this running? And of all places!! They are running in a cemetery. I see people running in a lot of places.... but never in a cemetery. In cemeteries we walk lightly and carefully. We walk through a cemetery with respect and reflective minds. But no one goes running, not in cemeteries.

What is it about the Easter morning story that sent people running in the cemetery? Mark, in his telling of the Easter event, emphasizes once more what he has been trying to tell us in the words of his gospel: "Do not fear, God is with us." The disciples who saw the empty tomb had gone from the horrendous anguish of fear to the most exuberant joy. Jesus was not there! He had risen! Jesus has changed the landscape of all cemeteries, and he has changed the landscape of our lives. And Jesus gives us the power to do great things in his name!

You've probably heard of Rudy Reuttiger; he's the guy whose story is told in the movie "Rudy." After Rudy got out of the Navy he began working a factory job in his hometown, but he had this crazy notion about playing football for the Notre Dame Fighting Irish. Rudy wasn't big or fast or exceptionally talented athletically, but he still believed he could make the team if he just tried. One of Rudy's blessings in life was that he belonged to a big, loving, close-knit family. When he told them of his dream, what did they say? "Go for it, Rudy. Follow your dream. Give it your best shot. Even if you don't make the team, at least you can say that you've tried?"

No, they didn't say that at all. They told him he was nuts. They said that he was a fool to give up a good union job to chase a silly dream. They gave him neither encouragement nor support, so Rudy had to make a choice--to listen to his family, or listen to the call to greatness.

Living Savior Lutheran Church has been called to follow our Lord's leading! We've been given a call to greatness that goes far beyond playing football. It is a call to change the world for the glory of God...to be disciple of Jesus Christ. God's Peace be with you this month, Pastor Andrew C. Lissy

Vicar's Voice

Have you ever wondered why fasting is associated with Lent? Historically, Lent wasn't the only time for it, but Advent, too, and there were even three days for fasting during the regular week. Brian Fagan notes in his book, Fish on Friday: Feasting, Fasting, and the Discovery of the New World, that in the Middle Ages, "Catholic doctrine sanctioned official fast days to cleanse and discipline the faithful. By the tenth century there were usually three such days a week—Wednesday, the day when Judas accepted a bribe for betraying Christ; Friday, to atone for the Savior's suffering on the Cross; and Saturday, in commemoration of the Virgin Mary" (Fagan, 147). The practice of the Lenten fast was especially important because Lent was a time set aside for prayer, contrition over sin, penance, and intercession, meant to emulate Jesus' fasting and temptation in the wilderness in Matthew 4:1-11, Mark 1:12-13, and Luke 4:1-13. Thus, it follows that if one were to both honor Christ's suffering while also growing in personal discipline, fasting could be a salutary activity, and in the Middle Ages, the Lenten fast revolved primarily around quantities and types of foods consumed. Animal protein was prohibited, but eating fish was encouraged. Hence the historic practice of eating fish on Fridays in the Roman Catholic Church.

But fasting, while good for outward bodily discipline and preparation, also came to be seen as a work that one could do to earn God's forgiveness, and for that reason it's largely fallen out of practice in a lot of churches following the Reformation—it's either seen as too Catholic or too associated with works-righteousness. But Luther didn't see fasting as something inherently bad. Rather, for him, fasting was a way to bring the body of a Christian into line with his or her soul. It is something we can do because we are made righteous in Christ, not because we think fasting will make us righteous. Here's what Luther says about fasting in his Candlemas sermon from his 1522 Kirchenpostille (LW 52:138-139):

He who starts with works, turns everything around and gains nothing. In the same way St. Paul after he had taught faith to the Romans, undertakes to teach them many good works saying that they should offer their body as a holy, living, agreeable sacrifice in the service of God. This takes place when one chastises the body with fasting, staying awake, getting dressed, and working. This is what Anna does. All the saints of old did the same. 'Fasting' refers to all chastisement and discipline of the body which, although the soul is justified and holy through faith, is still not entirely free of sin and evil inclinations. Thus it is necessary that the body become subdued and chastised and subservient to the soul, as St. Paul says of himself: 'I chastise my body and bring it under control, so that I, who am teaching others, am not myself disqualified' [I Cor. 9:27]....Nobody does this unless faith is there previously.

For this reason I have said frequently that the works that come after faith should have the sole purpose and intention of chastising the body and serving one's neighbor; they are not intended for earning a lot of merit or for making someone pious, for that must be present prior to the works. This is the real service of God in the works, if these works come about quite freely, to honor God. Otherwise what use does he have for your fasting, unless you quell thereby the sin and the flesh which he wants quelled? Those who fast for certain saints and on special days and times, without regard to the chastisement of the body do not do this; they only turn their fasting into a sterile work. But Anna does not have certain special days. She does not fast on Saturdays and Fridays, nor on the eves of the days of the apostles or on the quarter-year days. Nor does she make a distinction between foods, but day and night, as St. Luke says, she fasts and thereby serves God. This means that without ceasing she chastises her body, not as if she were thereby performing a work, but in order to serve God and to blot out sin."

So this Lent, if you are fasting (however you choose to do it—there is Christian freedom here), or if you have been thinking about trying out this ancient Christian practice in your own devotional life, remember that we should fast not because we desire to make ourselves more holy through it. Instead, when we fast, we should do so because, as God's forgiven children in Christ, through it, the Holy Spirit helps us to turn from sinful behavior, focus on God's word, and better serve our neighbor.

May God bless you through the rest of Lent and give you a joyous Easter!
Vicar Nils Niemeier

WORSHIP AND MUSIC MINISTRY

“Easter – 365”

Easter Sunday is one of those celebrations in the Church Year that we refer to as a “Moveable Feast.” There is no set date. We’ve all heard people say, “Easter comes early this year,” or “Easter comes late this year.” As one who has spent the majority of his adult life planning worship and music in a variety of congregational settings, I can assure you that I always prefer it when Easter comes “late.” The realities of planning worship and music for Advent and Christmas and then turning around and immediately starting to plan for Easter on those occasions when it falls in late March always causes a little more stress than when Easter falls in April and there are several more weeks to prepare.

The truth of the matter, though, is that in the Christian life, Easter doesn’t come early OR late! Easter comes, rather, Easter IS Every Day! This year, we will remember the resurrection of Jesus on April 21. Next year it will be April 12. In the year 2024 it will be March 31. Those are specific dates that have been set aside by the Church when we come together as God’s people and remember collectively the greatest historical event in the history of the universe.

However, Easter in the life of a Christian is much more than a single date on the calendar. As followers of Jesus and God’s children, we live in the power and hope of the open tomb everyday of the year. It’s Easter 365! We ARE the Easter People! We live with a certainty and assurance based upon the fact that because Jesus has overcome death and sin, we, too, overcome death and sin. We can live in Resurrection Power!

Between now and April 21, we will continue to remember the events that led to the resurrection of Jesus. But even in remembering those solemn actions, we still live each day in resurrection power as the Easter People! The Church in its tradition, thought, and wisdom, intentionally continues the “celebration of Easter” for six weeks following Easter Sunday. This is a good thing because it causes us to remember that Easter goes beyond a single date. During those six weeks, we will continue to sing the hymns and music of Easter. We will continue to say, “He is risen! He is risen indeed! Alleluia!”

There’s also a very good chance that throughout the year, after the seven Sundays of Easter, you will occasionally hear an Easter text or together with God’s people at Living Savior, sing an Easter hymn. That won’t be a mistake. It will be what the “Easter People” are all about. It will be the Body of Christ celebrating the power and hope of the Open Tomb. It will be God’s people celebrating Easter 365. God Bless you.

Chili Cook-off @ 4:30pm & Concert @ 6pm at LSLC

Mark your calendars, invite your friends, neighbors, and co-workers, and start that 5-star chili recipe simmerin' - Monica's back again this year for a return engagement! In Cape Cod, someone who lives but was not born there is a "Washashore." Young Monica barrel-raced on a Texas ranch but had never seen an ocean. So when she moved to Cape Cod in 2004, she instantly became the "Washashore Cowgirl" - also the title of her first album, nominated for best new country artist of the year. Monica has shared the stage with Chris Botti, Boz Scaggs, Diana Krall, Joan Osborne, and Slaid Cleaves this past year, has played the Main Stage at Strawberry Park Bluegrass festival the last two years, and performed with Tom Rush's band at his annual Boston Symphony Hall show. Last year locally, she played both Ram's Head and Birchmere.

Living Savior is indeed fortunate to host Monica for an encore free concert open to the public. (She also volunteered to be a judge for our chili cook-off!) Chili potluck starts at 4:30, Monica will perform at 6:00, and dessert will follow in Klein Hall. Please join us on Saturday, May 18, and bring the whole gang to this free, family friendly event!

Hidden Pond Nature Center

The Turtle class just enjoyed a field trip to Hidden Pond Nature Center. They took a guided tour through the park discovering nature and animals in their own habitat as God has planned it to be. The program also included a walk around the pond where they looked for frogs and learned about the life cycle of a frog. It was a wonderful educational experience for all of the children.

April Highlights

This month we will celebrate Palm Sunday and Easter. The children will make their own palms and will parade down to the Sanctuary where they will then have their chapel lesson. Each class will celebrate Easter with parties, egg hunts and egg dyeing. They will learn about the death and Resurrection of our Lord and His Ascension into Heaven. This is a special time for all of us.

We will be learning about new life this month. As part of our science curriculum, caterpillars and ants will arrive in late April! The children will observe the metamorphosis from caterpillar to the beautiful painted lady butterfly and watch the ants as they tunnel through the ant farms. We will discuss the importance of spring and new life and how Jesus shows us this sign in the flowers, trees and everything around us.

During late April and early May we will be honoring each child's special person with Special Person's Tea Parties. The children will be presenting unique gifts and singing songs for their very own Special Person.

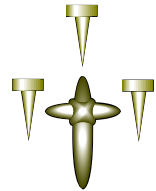

It will be a very busy month once again at Living Savior Preschool! It will be a month of hope, love, and new life!

Pennies for Patients

For the seventh year in a row, LSP participated in the “Pennies for Patients” program sponsored by the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society (LLS). Pennies for Patients is a program that gives school-based communities, such as the children at Living Savior, a chance to make a difference for families and children fighting blood cancers such as leukemia and lymphoma.

The children collected spare change around their houses and placed it in a Pennies for Patients Box to help support the research and cure for cancer. $571.53 was raised by the children and their families through coin donations and online giving. This outreach is one way the children of Living Savior Preschool can “Stand in Christ and serve others.” As a Christian community we hope to make a difference in someone's life.

Assist Pregnancy Center is a Christ-centered non-profit organization working to encourage, educate, and empower women and men to make life-giving decisions for themselves and their unborn children. Through the provision of medical services to confirm and date pregnancy, pregnancy options counseling, and practical assistance, Assist comes alongside abortion-vulnerable individuals to affirm life and share the hope found in the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

The funds you raise help provide the vital support needed to offer these services at no cost to those we serve. Thank you for raising funds to save lives, transform hearts and further the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

HOPE BLOOMS THIS SPRING AT FACETS BENEFIT BREAKFAST!

At this year's Hope in Bloom Breakfast we will be marking 15 years of FACETS' Hypothermia Prevention Program. This program would simply not exist without the extraordinary generosity of the 50 faith communities who open the doors to their churches. You all open your arms wide to provide a warm place to sleep, delicious food, and kind fellowship. We will be honoring our faith partners at this year's Hope in Bloom Breakfast and look forward to a sea of tables full of our Hypothermia Prevention partners and volunteers.

There is no cost to attend FACETS' Hope in Bloom Breakfast. Please RSVP and save your spot today at facetscares.org/RSVP For more information on how you can host a table please contact our Events Coordinator, Tessa Robinette at trobinette@FacetsCares.org.

One of the ways we are able to offer a delicious breakfast to our guests is through the generous support of our FACETS Hope in Bloom Benefit Breakfast Sponsors. As a sponsor you'll receive excellent promotion and that incredible feeling that comes with knowing you have helped FACETS change the world for our neighbors experiencing homelessness, poverty and hunger. To find out more about the many sponsorship packages available please contact Brenda Dushko, at bdushko@FacetsCares.org.
