Answered Prayer

Psalm 34:4 "I sought the Lord, and he answered me;
he delivered me from all my fears."

Every Sunday at Living Savior, the Vicar or I collect the yellow prayer cards. Some are requests for prayers of rejoicing! Many other, however, are requests for our Lord's intervention for healing and guidance. This is the time in our worship we seek out God's mercy and comfort.

Psalm 34:4 is very much like our yellow prayer cards. David, in writing Psalm 34, reflects on prayer requests and God's response to us. "I sought the Lord..." This seeking might be individual or group prayer, it might be scripture reading, or it might be listening to hymns or other praise and worship music. Or it might be a struggle to understand what is God's will for you and those you love in a particular situation.

The result of his seeking, is finding. What the psalmist found was that "He answered me...." Now, you might expect that the answer was the solution to problems, a healing of physical problems, a lifting of mental depression, or other wonderful resolutions. It's too easy to seek God and expect to find the problem solved in one way or another.

Notice the answer -- "and delivered me from all my fears." Not that the Lord removed the problem; not that the Lord will repair the damaged heart, cure all illness; not that the Lord will pay past-due utility bills; not that all who pray will always have a roof over their heads and enough food to feed their families well.

No, we in our human way of thinking, seek these kinds of "solutions" to our problems — but God often has a different plan. The promise is simply to be with us — letting us know he is present and cares when we are hurting, when we are grieving, when we are terrified of what the future might hold. He will "deliver us from all our fears."

What a gift! To know that whatever happens, God will always be with us, loving us, caring for us in our hurts, and ultimately we will be with him and all such problems will be wiped away.

God's peace this month,
Pastor Andrew C. Lissy

Vicar's Voice

"Do you not say, 'There are yet four months, then comes the harvest'? Look, I tell you, lift up your eyes, and see the fields are white for harvest. Already the one who reaps is receiving wages and gathering fruit for eternal life, so that sower and reaper may rejoice together. For here, the saying holds true, 'One sows and another reaps.' I sent you to reap that for which you did not labor. Others have labored, and you have entered into their labor." John 4:35-4:38

"It's a great time to be a member of Living Savior Lutheran Church!" That's a riff on what Dr. Dale Meyer, the president of Concordia Seminary, tells incoming students, but it's a true statement for us here at Living Savior, too. The fields are ripe for harvest here in Northern Virginia. I was looking at demographics data for Northern Virginia as a part of an assignment I had to complete for the seminary and saw a surprising statistic. According to data from Fairfax County, between the year 2000 and the year 2010, the number of people in the county identifying as "none," that is, having no religious affiliation, grew from 470,538 to 595,368—an increase of 124,830 people, or roughly 12,500 people per year! Assuming that trend has continued, Fairfax County is now home to somewhere around 695,000 "none." Both Prince William County and Loudon County report that over 60% of their respective populations identify as having no religious affiliation.

Seeing numbers that high can seem discouraging. By my math (and I'm not claiming it's terribly accurate given that I am working off old census data), our region is home to at least 1.3 million people who do not have a religious affiliation. We see numbers like this and look at statistics that say that the church is shrinking, and we can feel like despairing. It means that there's over a 50% chance that our next-door neighbors fall into this category—that they do not know Jesus, and that they might not even care.

But we have a great opportunity here. Our Lord reminds us that He has prepared our neighbors for us to share the good news of His Gospel with them. His Law is written on their hearts, preparing them to receive the Gospel. There is much fruit to be gathered for eternal life—there are many people living around us who do not know the love of Christ with whom we can share our faith. Of course, we must remember that God is the one who brings people to faith in Him. His word is what creates it, not our works. You and I cannot convince someone that Jesus is Lord, only He can. But we are in such a position that we have ample opportunity to do the good works that the Lord has set before us, and by doing those works we can witness the Gospel for our "none" neighbors and bring them to His saving word.

"But what are those works?" you might ask. "How can I witness to my neighbor?" "I don't know how to evangelize! What am I supposed to do?" Being a witness to your neighbor doesn't have to be hard or scary, though we often make it seem that way. Just be a neighbor! As Luther says in his treatise On the Freedom of the Christian, "[A]s our heavenly Father has in Christ freely come to our aid, we also ought freely to help our neighbor through our body and its works, and each one should become as it were a Christ to the other that we may be Christs to one another and Christ may be the same in all, that is, that we may be truly Christians...." Love the people who are around you. Invite them over for coffee. Help them with their yard work. Bear their sorrows with them. Rejoice when they rejoice. Bring them a casserole when they're not feeling well. Shovel their walkway when it snows. Pray for them in times of trouble.

These are simple things that neighbors do for one another, and in a world where many people do not know the people who live right next door to them, such gestures speak loudly. Sharing your faith will come out naturally in all of this, and when the time feels right, invite your neighbors to come to church with you where they will hear the Gospel preached in all its sweetness. It's not on you to win souls for Christ—it's on Him. But by being a good neighbor to your neighborhood "none," you can be His instrument to harvest fruit for eternal life, and both sower and reaper may rejoice together.

May God bless you richly this October and make you instruments of His harvest!
Vicar Nils Niemeier

Bridges International

Our partnership with Bridges International continues this year with a group Bible study for international students on Wednesday evenings. I would like to extend a hearty thanks to all those who have signed up to provide meals for the mid-week studies for this semester. The students really appreciate them (as does the Yee family, who hosts the study). A new sign-up sheet for the spring semester will be available in a few months. We will also continue this year with the conversation partners program for international students, but setting this up is still in the works.

The Breath – Lutheran Campus Ministry

The vicar is in! The Breath - Lutheran Campus Ministry was started in 2013 as the campus outreach of Living Savior Lutheran Church (Fairfax Station, Virginia) to the George Mason University community, serving Lutheran students as well as students with no religious background and those who had questions about their faith. Since its inception, The Breath has continued in its mission to feed students with the Gospel of Jesus Christ, provide them with a community of faith both on and off campus, and help them experience the peace of Christ in their lives.

College is tough for a variety of reasons. Jesus can bear your stresses, fears, worries, frustrations, and more. Come join us in following him!

Come find the vicar on campus from 12:00 – 5:00 PM in the Johnson Center on Wednesdays and Thursdays (hours and exact location subject to change). Also, find us on Facebook! Please "like" our page, The Breath-Lutheran Campus Ministry to see campus ministry updates and find out where the vicar is on campus!

WORSHIP AND MUSIC MINISTRY

“Be Prepared”

“Be Prepared!” Two brief words that carry a very important message. There are many ways that one can apply these words. We think of the recent storm, “Florence.” In its initial stages when its track was uncertain, all of us were encouraged to be sure that we had water, fuel, extra food, and so on. Thankfully, those of us in Northern Virginia were, for the most part, spared from Florence’s onslaught. But we were still prepared.

We encourage our children to make sure that they study and are prepared for that upcoming test. As a huge Washington Nat’s Baseball fan, I am keenly aware of how much preparation the relief pitchers in the bullpen needed to have so that they would be ready to come into the games and replace the Nat’s pitchers this past season. One thinks of the marathon runner who spends hours to prepare for the big race or for the cook who spends hours preparing for what will be a delicious meal.

“Be prepared!” Important words!

Every Monday morning, I receive an email from the school where I completed my doctoral program, The Robert E. Webber Institute for Worship Studies. That email always includes a quote from the writings of Dr. Robert Webber who passed away in 2007. A recent thought from his book, Worship is a Verb, reads, “God wants us to internalize him, to take him into ourselves, into our mind, our soul, our spirit, our will . . . For this reason, it is important to take time before worship begins to be quiet, to meditate, and prepare to meet God . . . Sitting quietly, hands resting in our lap, and heads bowed in a posture of humble anticipation are symbols of our preparation for the act of worship.” These are important words for us as we consider how we prepare for worship.

Worship is something that all of us do together. It’s an opportunity for us to respond to what God has done and continues to do for us through His Son, Jesus. It’s the most important thing we do as the Body of Christ. As we come to worship, may I encourage all of us to come with a spirit of expectation believing that we will be different when we leave, than we were when we came. May our preparations for our worship be blessed and inspired by our Lord. May we be ready to receive everything He has to give to us.

God bless you in your worship.

Living Savior Preschool

September Highlights

The start to our school year was a great success. As many of you know, Miss Janet retired in July. We are thrilled to announce that Anne Reynolds is our new director! Miss Anne has been at Living Savior since 2008, first as a Kindergarten assistant teacher, then as a lead teacher for both the Ducks and the Elephants.

We started September with a puppet show from Kay Dee Puppets where we learned about friendships, getting along with one another and starting school.

The Potluck dinner was once again well attended, living up to the "family favorite" reputation it has come to be. We had over one hundred and fifty family members in attendance. The food was outstanding, fellowship was shared by all!

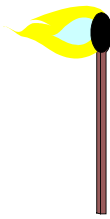

Chapel Lessons

Each Tuesday and Wednesday morning throughout the school year, the children at Living Savior gather in the Sanctuary for a Chapel lesson with either Pastor Andy or our new Vicar Nils. This is an important part of our annual curriculum at Living Savior Preschool as we teach the word of God through song and prayer and try to relate the message of the bible story so that it has meaning in the children's young lives. We look forward to another wonderful year of Chapel lessons as we continue to teach the children that Jesus touches every part of our day!

Discovery Toys

The Preschool will be hosting a Discovery Toy sale October 10-15. Feel free to stop by and place an order. They offer well made, award winning books, toys and games for all ages. It's a great way to start your Christmas shopping!

October Happenings

This month we will have our annual Lighters and Matches fire safety puppet show! The children will learn about tools for children and tools for adults. We will learn not to play with fire and matches and see what a fireman wears for protection. The fire department will come to the school to show us the fire engine and all the things that fire fighters use to fight fires.

Later in October our four year old Monkey class will venture to Hidden Pond Nature Center for an educational hike and the nature program "What Season is this?"

Later this month, we will once again have our annual costume parade around the school while singing fun fall and Christian songs for our parents. Lastly, our annual Fall Festival will take place on Saturday, October 13th with rides, games, face painting, a balloonist, cotton candy and popcorn. It's a wonderful day for the preschool children and their parents to enjoy all that God gives us including our friends and family. Also at the end of the month we will be having our first Parent/Teacher conferences where the teachers can share the children's progress with their parents. It looks to be a busy fall at the preschool!

2018 Flood Relief

St. Mark's Lutheran Church in Lumberton, NC has asked for our help. It will be opening a Supply Closet for its congregants and Lumberton neighbors to help with the clean-up and response to Hurricane Florence and the flooding aftermath.
