Think Big!

When my daughter, Elizabeth, was quite young, her favorite place to eat was McDonald's. We tried not to make a habit of going there too often. McDonald's was reserved for a special treat. One day when I was watching her while Natalie was away, I decided to take her to McDonald's for lunch. So I asked Elizabeth, "What do you want to eat today?" She said, "Peanut Butter and jelly!" I said, "Wait a minute. You can have anything you want for lunch. Anything at all. What do you want." Her answer: "Spaghetti-o's!"

Now, there's no way she liked canned pasta better than McDonald's, but she probably didn't think I would say yes to McDonald's, so she asked for a little less. Even when I dropped hints like "What kind of meal would make you happy to eat?" she still didn't get it.

In the Epistle of James, James writes: "You want something but don't get it.....You do not have, because you do not ask God." (James 4:2) I think God looks at us the same way. It's like he asks, "How many hints can I drop? I'm willing to give you so much, but you ask for so little. Come on guys! Think big!"

Prayer is so important. It is not something we do on Sunday mornings, or before we go to bed at night. It is something we do all day long! It is an ongoing conversation we have with our Lord. And Jesus attaches some very serious promises to our prayers!

- "Therefore I tell you, whatever you ask for in prayer, believe that you have received it, and it will be yours." (Mark 11:24)
- "Ask and it will be given to you; seek and you will find; knock and the door will be opened to you." (Matthew 7:7)

I wonder how often we pray for miracles, and then do not expect them!! My friends, be bold and courageous with your prayers! God is waiting to answer your prayers. He'll give you what is good for you - what is consistent with his will for you - but that includes far more than many of us are willing to ask for.

God's peace this month,
Pastor Andrew C. Lissy

Vicar's Voice

"For I consider that the sufferings of this present time are not worth comparing with the glory that is to be revealed to us. For the creation waits with eager longing for the revealing of the sons of God. For the creation was subjected to futility, not willingly, but because of him who subjected it, in hope that the creation itself will be set free from its bondage to corruption and obtain the freedom of the glory of the children of God. For we know that the whole creation has been groaning together in the pains of childbirth until now. And not only the creation, but we ourselves, who have the firstfruits of the Spirit, groan inwardly as we wait eagerly for adoption as sons, the redemption of our bodies. For in this hope we were saved."

(Romans 8:18-24a, ESV)

One of the blessings of living in the Vicar House is the wealth of animal and bird life that inhabits the land around the house. I especially enjoy spying on the local animals from my kitchen window, especially the deer. Two weeks ago Wednesday, I woke up to find three bucks following a doe around in the backyard, browsing off the trees and beginning to spar with their antlers. The biggest of the group was an eight-pointer, probably weighing in at 300 pounds with an impressive, symmetrical rack. He was proud! He owned the septic field and he knew it. The two other bucks present were a six-pointer and a young four-pointer. The young one wanted to chase the doe, but the big eight-pointer didn't want him to have anything to do with her! He ran him off into the woods and made sure that doe was his. I grabbed my camera and shot a number of photos of the bucks and their antics, looking forward to watching them and recording them as the season and the rut continued.

The next morning I woke up to an unfortunate surprise. Looking out my window, I saw something laying at the back of the yard by the edge of the woods. The local fox emerged from the brush and began working on it. I grabbed a pair of binoculars and looked out the window. It was the eight-pointer. He was dead. When I went out to look at the carcass, the foxes had already begun to eat him.

Steve Galing came over later that afternoon to help me bury the carcass in the woods. He figured that the deer died from injuries sustained in a collision with a car, and after examining the body, I had to agree. Somehow, the animal had dragged himself from the road across the backyard to die at the edge of the woods, likely an area where he felt safe. It was such an ignominious, unlucky, and unfair end to one of God's creatures in his prime. One day alive, a beautiful example of creation and living out his "deerly" vocation, the next dead from a freak accident and food for the foxes and vultures.

But the death of this deer has served as a reminder to me of the unfairness and chaos we experience in our fallen world. When Adam sinned, all of Creation became subject to sin and its effects, most especially death. Adam and Eve not only doomed themselves, but all other creatures, and so, as Paul says in Romans 8, all of Creation groans under the strain and the pain of sin. Because of that sin we and all of God's creatures suffer under the constant threats of disease, violence, and random and senseless death among myriad other threats. And creation has waited for release from this endless nightmare. For us it seems normal. We have been born into this world and experience the sickness, sadness, and death that surrounds us as a matter of course. But it is not normal. God's intent for mankind in the beginning was that we live in harmony with Him forever. But our first parents shattered that relationship with God and brought the curse of death upon their descendants and the whole world. It was never supposed to be this way. The world was, in the beginning one of beauty and life. Now it is full of ugliness and death, and we bear the responsibility. We bear the curse.

But God provided a way to fix this broken relationship and end the curse. The reign of sin and death would be destroyed through death--a single death--the death of the Son of God, Jesus Christ. Through His death on the cross and His resurrection on the third day, Jesus has made us "sons" of God, and as "sons" or heirs He has given us the full promise of redemption and salvation from the curse of sin. We have the promise, and as Paul says in Romans 8:23, we await its fulfillment eagerly in the Resurrection when the curse will be destroyed forever and we will live in a redeemed and remade world, free from the pain and awfulness that is wrought by sin. This redemption of our bodies that Paul speaks of has not happened yet, but the promise of it bears the same salvation and redemption as the future event itself. This promise is something we all can trust in because its benefit comes to us and is immediate. When we trust that it is indeed for us, our "sonship" in Christ is assured, and in spite of this world's sinfulness, we can know that this is indeed good news!

So while we live in a world where the effects of sin are still very apparent and all of creation still groans under the weight of sin's curse, take heart! Jesus is coming soon, and when He comes, all of creation will be redeemed and healed. Let us await His coming with joy!

May God bless you this month and give you hope in His promise, Vicar Nils Niemeier

The Breath – Lutheran Campus Ministry

GMU Service Day Event

The Campus Ministry Association at George Mason will be holding a service day event on campus at GMU on November 15 from 9:00 AM – 4:00 PM to raise funds and supplies for the local homeless population on campus and in the greater Fairfax area. Charities benefited will include the Patriot Pantry, Lamb Center, and FACETS. More information will be forthcoming, especially after the November 8 planning meeting.

Come find the vicar on campus from 12:00 – 5:00 PM in the Johnson Center on Wednesdays and Thursdays (hours and exact location subject to change). Also, find us on Facebook! Please "like" our page, The Breath-Lutheran Campus Ministry to see campus ministry updates and find out where the vicar is on campus!

Bridges International

A hearty thanks to all those who have signed up to provide meals for the midweek Wednesday studies for this semester. The students really appreciate them (as does the Yee family, who hosts the study). A new sign-up sheet for the spring semester will be available in a few months. We will also continue this year with the conversation partners program for international students, but setting this up is still in the works.

WORSHIP AND MUSIC MINISTRY

“SDG”

If not the greatest composer who ever lived, Johann Sebastian Bach was certainly one of the greatest composers who ever lived. The work produced by this 18th century German Lutheran is unparalleled. His instrumental, keyboard, and vocal music is still being played and sung throughout the world in a variety of settings including thousands of churches.

I remember, with great fondness, a conversation I had many years ago with one of my beloved organ mentors, the late Dr. Paul Manz. I said to him, “Dr Manz, if someone was going to take all of my organ music from me and I could only keep one composer, I would keep your compositions.” With a twinkle in his eye, Dr Manz looked at me and said, “Wally, what would you do with Bach?” It demonstrated the reverence that Dr Manz had for Bach and his lifetime of work.

One of the interesting facts about Bach is that he never differentiated between secular and sacred music. Everything he wrote was written to the glory of God. A common practice of Bach was to inscribe the letters “SDG” at the conclusion of all of his compositions. Those letters were short for the Latin phrase Soli Deo Gloria . . . To the Glory of God. Bach lived his life and carried out his work solely for God’s glory, Bach’s theology was expressed through his music. He displayed that theology for everyone to see and hear. He never took any short cuts in what he offered for God’s glory.

What a powerful lesson for all of us to witness and experience! What a wonderful model for each of us to strive to achieve. By being mindful of doing all of our daily tasks and work for God’s glory, we have an opportunity to demonstrate to the world our desire to honor God in all we do.

Bach was not perfect. He had his “ups and downs.” So do we. But like Bach, even in our “ups and downs” we can be sure that God will continue to empower us and equip us to do our best for Him in response to what He has done for us through Jesus.

Realizing that God has provided for us and continues to provide for us, like Bach, we will, with happy hearts, be able to inscribe everyday of our lives with the letters “SDG.”

God bless you as you compose your “music” to His glory.
Soli Deo Gloria

Interim Minister of Worship/Organist

Adult Bible Study

Sunday AM Women's Bible Study

A Women's Bible Study meets in the Preschool Office at 9:50am on Sunday Morning. Jenny Minor leads this 12 week study by Cynthia Heald, Becoming a Woman of Excellence.

(The book can be purchased on Amazon for $7.99)
All women of LSLC are invited to attend this study!

Adult Sunday Morning Bible Study

Who is the Holy Spirit? What role does He play in salvation and in our Christian life? How do we know He is a person, and not just a power or a force? How does He fit into the Trinity? We will discuss these and many other questions in our Adult Sunday School at 9:50 AM in Klein Hall. We will have a collaborative, discussion-oriented, six-week session on the Doctrine of the Holy Spirit, facilitated by Jason Tolbert. Don't worry if you miss a session! You can easily join in any time. The last class will be on November 4th with a new class beginning on December 2nd.

Weekly Bible Studies

Lifelight Wednesday, 1:00pm to 2:30pm

LifeLight is an in-depth Bible study which meets in the Narthex and is led by Donna Dietz. We are currently studying the book of Job. Contact Terri Beam with any questions at 703-239-0782 or terribeam@gmail.com. All are Welcome!

Living Savior Preschool

October Highlights

Our four-year old Monkey class had a field trip to Hidden Pond Nature Center to learn about Fall Changes and observe various animals in their natural habitat. They were blessed with beautiful weather and therefore enjoyed a picnic lunch as well.

At our Lighters and Matches fire safety puppet show we learned not to play with fire and matches, saw what a fireman wears for protection and some of us climbed inside the fire engine!

Our annual Fall Festival was a huge success once again! The weather was overcast and we had a few sprinkles but that didn't dampen our spirits. We were joined by many families for a fun filled morning.

We had a new visitor this month, Otto the Auto. A traffic safety program was presented by AAA and Otto, a talking car. The children enjoyed the program as they learned about traffic safety.

Our Discovery Toys sale was quite a success! Several of our families bought toys and donated them to the preschool. Using points earned from the purchases, we were also able to buy six additional items to enrich our classroom curriculum.

Lastly, the ever popular Halloween Parade & Fall Sing-A-Long took place at the end of the month. For the past month, the children have been learning new songs and preparing to use their singing voices for this very special event! October was a fun month for all!

Midland Fundraiser

We want to thank our families and church members who participated in our Midland Fundraiser last month. The profit from sales for this important fundraiser will go towards improving our playground! The items have been shipped and should be in by November 1st. We are grateful for everyone's continued support!

Hosts Needed!

Hosts families are needed to house 28 faculty/students from Concordia University, Mequon, WI
January 17 to January 23, 2018
coming for the March for Life on January 18, 2019

Contact Mary Heetland at larheetinc@cox.net!

Note: A wheelchair accessible home is needed for one student and her two friends.

November Happenings

In November the preschool children will be busy preparing for Thanksgiving. Once again they will be preparing food for their Thanksgiving feasts. Many parent volunteers will help as we come together as a preschool and give thanks at our special Thanksgiving Feasts! Throughout the month of November, the children will collect canned foods as well as other non-perishable items in their classrooms to contribute to the Concordia Food Ministry. This is a wonderful way for the children to experience the gift of giving to others who need our help during this month of Thanksgiving.

Special Thanks

Thanksgiving is around the corner.

What a marvelous opportunity to give thanks for the gifts that God has given us. The preschool gives special thanks to the church board members for their hard work, talents, time and interest and also to the many volunteers that make our school so very special. Thank you!

Spaces Still Available

If you know of any families who are looking for a warm, positive, Christian preschool experience for their little one please tell them about Living Savior Preschool. We have two spaces available in our Pre-K class. There is a wait list for all other classes. If interested, they may call the preschool office at 703-352-4208 to set up a tour of the preschool or to speak with the director. Our year is off to a great start!

Happy Thanksgiving!

Families from LSLC have been housing Concordia Mequon Students for Life since 2008. Host responsibilities include transportation to and from church, providing accommodations and breakfast. Please consider helping!

A Host potluck dinner is being planned after the March for Life on Friday, January 18, 2019 at LSLC about 6pm.

All former hosts and any interested church members are invited to attend this dinner.
